The 30th September 1918.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Delhi Province in the Education Department, No. 7462, dated the 30th September 1913.

READ—

Letter No. 1860, dated the 18th August 1913, from the Deputy Commissioner, Delhi, forwarding the report of the Delhi Municipality for the year 1912-13.

Remarks.—1. Constitution and working.—The Deputy Commissioner of Delhi has, in his letter of 18th August 1913, with which he forwards the report on the working of the Delhi Municipality for the year 1912-13, given an interesting account of the development of the Municipal Committee of Delhi from small beginnings into the organization which now controls municipal affairs at the Capital of India. The dignity which has fallen on Delhi City by the Royal desire of the King-Emperor has brought heavy responsibilities in its train, and municipal affairs have now to be administered not only to suit local standards but in accordance with ideals befitting the control of the Municipality of the Capital of India. The census results of 1911 show a growing local population with needs to be provided for; the lesson of the malaria epidemic of 1908, the high death rate which still obtains in the City, and the notable prevalence of tubercular disease make it clear that the Committee has before it an arduous but necessary programme of sanitary reform. This programme must rank prior to the provision of minor amenities; but when such amenities come to be considered it must be confessed that the roads, schools and lighting of Delhi fall short of the standard which a Capital City might be expected to exhibit. The Municipal Committee have thus a task of great magnitude before them. This task is not likely to be accomplished unless the trammels of petty local considerations and parochial ideas are cast aside and there is a whole-hearted concentration on progress and efficiency.

2. The municipal machine at first appeared unlikely to adapt itself readily to the great changes for which provision had to be made on the formation of the New Capital. Steps have, however, been taken to remedy this. The appointment of an Additional District Magistrate has given the Deputy Commissioner adequate time to devote to his duties as President of the Committee. The appointment of a wholetime City Magistrate has enabled a proper enforcement of the municipal law and of Section 34 of the Police Act, while it has, by setting free the Assistant Commissioner acting as Secretary of the Municipality from all case work, allowed him to spend his whole time on municipal administration. Government has sanctioned a whole time Health Officer for the City and given financial assistance to defray the expenditure consequent on the appointment. It has also sanctioned the constitution of a separate Notified Area for the portion of the Municipality in which the temporary offices of the Government of India and residences of officials are situated, thus relieving the Committee of an area which would have proved expensive to administer and have caused a considerable tax on the activities of the management.

3. The Chief Commissioner is glad to acknowledge the fact that the Committee have, on their side, made earnest and well directed efforts to improve the machinery of their administration. The year's record is one of real progress. The Sanitary, Engineering, Finance and Tax Departments have been reorganized, and a new executive Department has been created. In regard to the latter, the Chief Commissioner wishes to offer some remarks. The departure from the system by which the Ward Members were supposed to be in charge of the executive work in their Wards, has, in some places, formed the subject of comment as a retrograde measure tending to curtail the direct interest of the members in the furtherance of the work and interests of the Committee.

The objection appears to be based on a misconception of the proper position of the members of a Municipal Committee. In the first place, material considerations prevent their becoming really efficient executive officers. Most of them are professional or commercial men, with a busy daily life of their own; many are in addition prevented by family reasons, by age or by enforced absences from continued application to executive work. But the case goes further than this. The true function of the Municipal Member is to advise, direct and control the municipal organization, the actual work of which is best executed by an efficient executive staff serving under the Committee. To entrust him with petty functions in connection with the sweeping of streets or the removal of obstructions, is to involve a confusion of functions which cannot fail to impair his value as a representative of the public. The Chief Commissioner takes this opportunity of noting that an increase of the Executive Department would appear to be necessary in order to provide for the speedier disposal of applications under the building bye-laws, and requests that the matter may engage the attention of the Committee.

4. The Chief Commissioner is gratified by the returns of the attendance of members both at the meetings of the Committee and at the meetings of sub-committees. Delhi has been pro-

The 30th September 1913.

Proceedings of the Hon'ble the Chief Commissioner of Delhi Province in the Education Department, No. 7462, dated the 30th September 1913.

READ—

Letter No. 1860, dated the 13th August 1913, from the Deputy Commissioner, Delhi, forwarding the report of the Delhi Municipality for the year 1912-13.

Remarks.—1. Constitution and working.—The Deputy Commissioner of Delhi has, in his letter of 13th August 1913, with which he forwards the report on the working of the Delhi Municipality for the year 1912-13, given an interesting account of the development of the Municipal Committee of Delhi from small beginnings into the organization which now controls municipal affairs at the Capital of India. The dignity which has fallen on Delhi City by the Royal desire of the King-Emperor has brought heavy responsibilities in its train, and municipal affairs have now to be administered not only to suit local standards but in accordance with ideals befitting the control of the Municipality of the Capital of India. The census results of 1911 show a growing local population with needs to be provided for; the lesson of the malaria epidemic of 1908, the high death rate which still obtains in the City, and the notable prevalence of tubercular disease make it clear that the Committee has before it an arduous but necessary programme of sanitary reform. This programme must rank prior to the provision of minor amenities; but when such amenities come to be considered it must be confessed that the roads, schools and lighting of Delhi fall short of the standard which a Capital City might be expected to exhibit. The Municipal Committee have thus a task of great magnitude before them. This task is not likely to be accomplished unless the trammels of petty local considerations and parochial ideas are cast aside and there is a whole-hearted concentration on progress and efficiency.

2. The municipal machine at first appeared unlikely to adapt itself readily to the great changes for which provision had to be made on the formation of the New Capital. Steps have, however, been taken to remedy this. The appointment of an Additional District Magistrate has given the Deputy Commissioner adequate time to devote to his duties as President of the Committee. The appointment of a wholetime City Magistrate has enabled a proper enforcement of the municipal law and of Section 34 of the Police Act, while it has, by setting free the Assistant Commissioner acting as Secretary of the Municipality from all case work, allowed him to spend his whole time on municipal administration. Government has sanctioned a whole time Health Officer for the City and given financial assistance to defray the expenditure consequent on the appointment. It has also sanctioned the constitution of a separate Notified Area for the portion of the Municipality in which the temporary offices of the Government of India and residences of officials are situated, thus relieving the Committee of an area which would have proved expensive to administer and have caused a considerable tax on the activities of the management.

3. The Chief Commissioner is glad to acknowledge the fact that the Committee have, on their side, made earnest and well directed efforts to improve the machinery of their administration. The year's record is one of real progress. The Sanitary, Engineering, Finance and Tax Departments have been reorganized, and a new executive Department has been created. In regard to the latter, the Chief Commissioner wishes to offer some remarks. The departure from the system by which the Ward Members were supposed to be in charge of the executive work in their Wards, has, in some places, formed the subject of comment as a retrograde measure tending to curtail the direct interest of the members in the furtherance of the work and interests of the Committee.

The objection appears to be based on a misconception of the proper position of the members of a Municipal Committee. In the first place, material considerations prevent their becoming really efficient executive officers. Most of them are professional or commercial men, with a busy daily life of their own; many are in addition prevented by family reasons, by age or by enforced absences from continued application to executive work. But the case goes further than this. The true function of the Municipal Member is to advise, direct and control the municipal organization, the actual work of which is best executed by an efficient executive staff serving under the Committee. To entrust him with petty functions in connection with the sweeping of streets or the removal of obstructions, is to involve a confusion of functions which cannot fail to impair his value as a representative of the public. The Chief Commissioner takes this opportunity of noting that an increase of the Executive Department would appear to be necessary in order to provide for the speedier disposal of applications under the building bye-laws, and requests that the matter may engage the attention of the Committee.

4. The Chief Commissioner is gratified by the returns of the attendance of members both at the meetings of the Committee and at the meetings of sub-committees. Delhi has been prominent in recognition of the ability of the sub-committee system in the past and it is on the efficient working of this system that success in the task before the Municipality largely depends.

5. The Municipal Committee lost three members during the year—Mirza Suraya Jah, Commissioner for twenty years, R. R. Jowahar Lal and Gopi Nath. There were six elections during the year; but in only two cases was there any contest. In the other cases the outgoing member was unopposed or the other candidates retired before the matter came to the hustings.

6. Taxation.—Octroi accounts for Rs. 5,81,787 of the total taxes amounting Rs. 7,08,106. The actuals for 1911-12 were abnormal on account of the dabar; and the figures in the present report may be compared with the figures for 1910-11, which are Rs. 4,91,363 and Rs. 6,11,829 respectively. These are gross figures. Part of the increase may be put down to influx of population connected with the building operations of the temporary capital and the advent of the Government of India, and put to better assessment and collection. The octroi department is one of the municipal departments of which the reorganization has not been completed; it is not, however, predicted by the President that any large increase in receipts are to be anticipated. The octroi refunds now amount to 11 per cent of the gross income, and the steady growth of refunds, together with the complaint that the refund system is complicated and unequal in its working, make it necessary for the Committee to face at an early date the necessity for reconsidering the whole position regarding octroi. The objections originally formulated by the Government of India against a terminal tax have now been withdrawn, and the Committee should consider at an early date the arguments for and against the substitution of this tax.

7. The taxes on land, houses and buildings for the year amount only to Rs. 83,450 as compared with Rs. 86,683 in 1911-12 and Rs. 86,816 in 1910-11. The house-tax is the only direct tax paid by the inhabitants at large, and averages the low figure of only just over five annas per annum per head of population and Rs. 3-4 per annum per house. This tax only forms 11 per cent. of the total taxation. The low receipts appear wholly incompatible with the rise in price and renting value of house property in the Municipality. There is a small increase in the receipts from taxes on vehicles and animals and tolls. These two taxes only bring in about Rs. 45,000 and are obviously incapable of any material development. This subject is further dealt with in a succeeding paragraph (No. 8).

8. Financial Position.—Omitting Government grants, the financial position of the Municipal Committee in view of the work which has to be done is not very favourable. Taking the year 1912-13 as a normal year the receipts are:

	Lakhs.
1. Octroi after deducting refunds	6.12
2. Other taxes and special acts	1.31
3. Revenue derived from municipal property and powers other than taxation	5.27
4. Miscellaneous31
5. Balance56
TOTAL	10.57

It is somewhat difficult to extract from the accounts as now presented the figures of normal expenditure, since the annual figures include expenditure of a capital nature out of special grants and contributions. But if as stated in paragraph 9 of the Deputy Commissioner's letter, the normal expenditure on "the payment of establishment and upkeep of municipal properties" is 11½ lakhs, it is clear that in order to carry on ordinary municipal administration and repay loans, without any special expenditure on improvements or large works, a normal deficit of about three-quarters of a lakh has to be faced. There appears no possibility of curtailing the expenditure on maintenance. While the Municipality may normally anticipate some assistance from Government for large works of improvement and sanitary reform, they cannot look to general revenues to finance a recurring annual deficit. The amount involves an increase of taxation of five annas per head of population per annum. It is not at all certain that octroi will bring in an appreciable increase. The nazul properties cannot be counted on as giving an increased income for some years to come. Some of these properties will be resumed by Government for the need of the new Imperial City, resulting in an immediate loss of income to the Committee. The latter assessment and collection of rents on other plots may lead to a better income in special cases; but the Chief Commissioner thinks that much of this will be discounted for some time to come by immediate expenditure on providing such area with roads, water and drainage in order to convert them into really valuable property. The conclusion appears to be inevitable that the deficit must be made up by an increase in the house tax.

9. General.—The Chief Commissioner has read with interest the report of the various departments which are enclosed with the municipal report. At present the Municipal Committee makes a profit of 33 per cent. on its expenditure on work done for private individuals in connection with water supply. Apparently this admits a possibility of favourable developments. The total receipts for the sale of water are given as Rs. 1,73,412 against an expenditure (excluding capital charges) of Rs. 1,19,484. The rates have lately been revised, but it is clearly necessary by careful administration to do all that is possible to make up for the heavy interest charges on the capital outlay on the water works. The drainage system is in the crucible and awaits the result of the wide investigation now being carried out. Mr. Salkield's remarks on the road problem have been read with great interest and his whole note on the engineering branch is an excellent summary of the activities in store for this branch of the Municipality.

Major Cook Young gives an interesting summary of the difficulties of sanitation in Delhi and the steps that are being taken to combat the prevalent insanitary condition. With the help received from the Government of India, it has been possible to make considerable headway with reforms.

10. The detailed reports, and the remarks of the President, make it clear that the Committee have considered the programme of immediate requirements and have in hand a number of sanitary and other works of the most pressing urgency. While recognizing this, the Chief Commissioner wishes to indicate to the Committee the following items which have, in his opinion, a paramount claim on their attention during the coming twelve months:—

- (1) The formulation of adequate building bye-laws; it may be said that at present Delhi has no building bye-laws at all.
- (2) The extension of public latrine accommodation of a revised type.
- (3) The regulation of the milk supply. Land will shortly be available for grazing grounds across the Jumna, and it will be necessary to transfer to these grounds a large number of the milch cattle now stabled in the city.
- (4) The improvement of arrangements for vaccination.
- (5) The improvement of the conditions in which meat is sold.

11. In regard to the remarks of the President with respect to the necessity for provision of room for the extension of Delhi city, the Chief Commissioner has given the whole question his earnest attention and comprehensive proposals will shortly be submitted to the Government of India dealing with the provision of areas for the extension of the city for many years to come.

ORDER.—Ordered that copies of the foregoing remarks be forwarded to the Deputy Commissioner, Delhi, and the Secretary to the Chief Commissioner in the Public Works Department. Also that the remarks be published in the Government of India Gazette.

IMPERIAL DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE IN INDIA.

NOTIFICATION.

Pusa, the 5th November 1918.

The following Prospectus of Short Courses of Instruction given at the Agricultural Research Institute, Pusa, is published for general information :—

SHORT COURSES OF INSTRUCTION GIVEN AT PUSA.

The function of the Pusa College in the general scheme of Agricultural Education in India has been defined as that of a higher Teaching Institution and Research Station for post-graduate agricultural students and for advanced science students, particularly from Indian Universities.

But for the present it seems necessary for the Pusa Institute to continue to assist Provinces and Native States by giving short courses of instruction in special branches of agriculture or in simple industries connected with agriculture. There are now facilities at Pusa for thorough instruction in the subjects referred to.

The short courses are broadly defined in a syllabus for each subject which is appended hereto. The instruction is essentially practical in character and requires no scientific training and not even a knowledge of English. Students should, however, have a fair general education.

Men who have not the instincts of the profession which they are following or propose to follow will not be accepted. It is desired to admit in particular to Pusa for these courses men who are bona fide agriculturists or Malis by caste.

The courses will be suitable for men of the subordinate staff of all the Agricultural Departments, and will be open to private individuals who are engaged or propose to engage in the special branches of agriculture and allied subjects dealt with.

A recommendation of a suitable candidate by a Director of Agriculture or any other authorised authority will be accepted, if the applicant is certified to be of good character and in robust health.

Free quarters of a very simple but sufficient character will be provided.

Students will have to pay all travelling and personal expenses. The latter at Pusa need not exceed Rs. 15 per mensem.

No books will be required.

Applications should be addressed to the Director of the Agricultural Research Institute Pusa, Bihar.

SYLLABUS OF SHORT COURSES.

Section of Agriculture.

(1) Cattle Management.—The course will occupy three months. It will deal with the general management of breeding herds and of milch and draught cattle and will include simple instruction in the recognition, treatment and prevention of the more common diseases. The Imperial Pathological Entomologist will deal with the principal insect-pests of cattle, the part which they play as disease-carriers and methods of treatment. Courses will commence in October and January.

Section of Economic Botany.

(2) Fruit Growing.—The course will be an eight months' one and will deal with —

- (a) The general management of a fruit garden, including choice of site, laying out, draining and planting, the choice of varieties, irrigation, cultivation and manuring.
- (b) Special processes, such as budding, grafting, layering pruning and root pruning, weathering.
- (c) Disposal of fruit, including packing, grading, packing and marketing.
- (d) Evaporating, drying and preserving.

The course will begin each year on the 1st of October and will last till the end of May.

Section of Entomology.

(3) Eri-silk as a Cottage Industry.—The course will occupy about six months and will commence on July 1st of each year. It includes rearing, spinning, dyeing and weaving.

(4) Lac Cultivation as an Adjunct to ordinary Agriculture.—The training can be given only from June 1st to 30th and October 1st to 31st. The June course is the chief one but if a sufficient number of bond fide students apply, a second course in October will also be given. These dates vary a little according to the season as lac does not always come out regularly. The training includes pruning and handling of trees, inoculation of lac, harvesting, scraping and washing. It covers the whole industry to the production of seed lac and is exclusive of the production of shellac.

(5) Mulberry Silk Culture.—The course includes rearing, selection of disease-free eggs, reeling and the utilization of waste cocoons. Instruction is also given in the varieties of silk worms. Silk twisting (spinning) and dyeing with the simpler forms of weaving are taught. The full course occupies twelve months. The training covers only the ordinary existing methods of reeling and weaving and not the more complex ones. The course will commence on July 1st each year.
